The button maker is available for use to all Temple University faculty, staff and students.

The library’s button maker makes one-inch buttons.

Bring or create an image to be cut out and made into a button.

A blank template and a “Temple T” template are available at: http://guides.temple.edu/technology/buttonmaker.

Buttons are for individual use, no commercial or business-related use permitted.

Instructions for use are at: http://guides.temple.edu/technology/buttonmaker.

For student groups:
- Button maker can be used for student group activities, but must remain in the library’s space – either in the Innovation Space or Room 160.
- Supplies for up to 50 buttons will be provided to student groups.
- To purchase additional supplies, see: www.americanbuttonmachines.com.
- Please supply one button for the library’s archives.
